Erie Yacht Club Fellowship Dinner Wednesday February 6, 2019

with a presentation of “A Slow Start: An Overview of the Settling of the Erie Triangle”
By Melinda Meyer

Melinda Meyer has worked with and served the heritage and arts communities of Northwestern Pennsylvania for nearly 20 years.

As a public historian, Ms. Meyer speaks frequently on the history of Erie County and consistently pursues avenues to share local history with all audiences. After the American Revolution, the newly formed state of Pennsylvania looked forward to expanding a settlement of its western lands. The territory known as the “Erie Triangle,” today the northern-most piece of Pennsylvania, offered access to the Great Lakes and a safe harbor, a temperate climate, fertile soil, and an abundance of fresh water. Settlement of the Erie Triangle was delayed, however, due to multiple claims on the land.
